Jacqueline
L. Reynoso

Cordoba Corporation, a nationally recognized engineering, program management and construction management firm specializing in the transportation, energy, water and education sectors, is pleased to announce that Jacqueline L. Reynoso has joined the company as Director of Programs and Policy.

"I'm delighted to have Jacqueline join our team," stated Founder & CEO George L. Pla. "She brings tremendous public policy experience and an in depth understanding of diverse community needs and binational dynamics, which will assist our sectors in developing well planned, innovative, and equitable project solutions."

Ms. Reynoso possesses 15 years of executive management experience in policy advocacy, program development, stakeholder engagement and regional planning efforts in San Diego. She previously served as President and CEO of the National City Chamber of Commerce for 12 years where she oversaw all organizational functions including budgeting and finance, operations, strategic planning, marketing and communications, contract negotiations, project delivery, public affairs, and business development.

"I am excited to join a diverse, dynamic and talented team that shares my commitment to excellence both in the technical field and in making a difference in the local community," stated Ms. Reynoso.

Ms. Reynoso's past experience also includes leading National City's Economic Development Department, working in Real Estate Management for the Centre City Development Corporation, as Manager of Board and Shareholder Relations of Promerica Bank in Los Angeles, and as Executive Fellow with the Office of Attorney General Bill Lockyer.

Ms. Reynoso can be reached at Jacqueline.Reynoso@cordobacorp.com or (619) 509-5248. For more information: www.cordobacorp.com.
