Todd Rider

Good & Roberts, LLC is proud to announce the promotion of Todd Rider to Vice President. In his new role as Vice President, Rider will assume responsibility for estimating and business development in addition to his ongoing role with operations. Prior to his promotion, Rider served as Director of Operations at G&R for the past two years. Before that, he trained for more than 13 years with C.W. Driver San Diego as a senior project manager, making him the ideal fit to manage the continued migration of specific processes and procedures in the C.W. Driver mold.

Rider has extensive experience in complex Design-Build and Design-Assist projects, emphasizing solution-oriented collaboration, cost efficiency and relationship building with owners and subcontractors. With over 22 years of experience in the industry, Rider is a LEED Accredited Professional, a licensed Design-Build Professional (DBIA), and has training from the US Army Corps of Engineers Construction Quality Management for Contractors (CQMC).

Good & Roberts, LLC is confident that Rider will continue to lead the management team to generate significant returns for years to come.

Headquartered in Carlsbad, Calif., Good & Roberts is a multi-faceted builder providing General Contracting and Design/Build services to the San Diego region. Originally founded in 1979 by Jack Good and Stan Roberts and acquired by C.W. Driver Cos. in 2013, the firm has a history in large tenant improvement projects, small shell and core work, and specialty market sectors such as aerospace and defense, biomedical/life sciences, industrial and manufacturing, and technology.

HEALTHCARE STAFFING AWARD

Medical Solutions, one of the largest healthcare talent ecosystems, has been honored with a Glassdoor Employees' Choice Award recognizing the Best Places to Work 2023. The company sits at number 16 out of 100 total ranked large companies in the United States.

To create the list of 100 companies, Glassdoor studied the quality, quantity, and consistency of reviews left on company profiles between October 2021 and October 2022. Companies could not nominate themselves to be considered.

Glassdoor found that Medical Solutions boasts a 4.5-star overall company rating and a 4.35-star workplace factor rating. Both ratings considered more than nine attributes, including career opportunities, compensation and benefits, culture and values, and diversity and inclusion.

Glassdoor is a global platform allowing employers to host job openings and information while allowing employees to share experiences at their current or previous company anonymously. Glassdoor has presented the Best Places to Work rankings since 2009, with this being the first time Medical Solutions has been included on the list.
