Promotion

Maegen Curry

ID Studios is pleased to announce that Maegen Curry, NCIDQ, has been promoted to Associate Principal and become a shareholder. Maegen is a Senior Interior Designer with 13 years of experience and has made great strides in her career since she joined ID Studios in 2014. This past year alone she was promoted to Senior Associate, just before her second promotion of the year to Associate Principal. Maegen is an amazing design talent and exudes leadership, which has made her an asset to the principal team at ID Studios. Along with her role of leading design teams for clients such as Tandem Diabetes, she has been championing marketing efforts to promote the firm for quite some time. Her expertise in business development, networking, mentorship, and design will increase even more as she takes on additional responsibilities in this new role.
